The Character of a Catholic School

Brief Statement for the Information of Staff

This statement is to be read in association with the school charter, a copy of which is available from the school.

The special character of a Catholic school is defined in the Integration Agreement as follows:

“The school is a Roman Catholic school in which the whole school community, through the general school programme and in its religious instructions and observances, exercises the right to live and teach the values of Jesus Christ. These values are as expressed in the Scriptures and in the practices, worship and doctrine of the Roman Catholic Church, as determined from time to time by the Roman Catholic Bishop of the Diocese.”

Any person applying for a position in a Catholic school needs to understand the commitment this involves.

1. All staff members, whether Catholic or not, are part of this ‘whole school community’. Each staff member is therefore expected to use his or her specific skills to achieve the purposes of the school.
2. A Catholic school assists the Church in its mission. It does this by helping its pupils to become complete persons, that is to say persons with knowledge, faith and norms of living which are harmonised.
3. All subjects are taught for their own value and with their own objectives. Catholics believe in the value of all human knowledge as it is part of God’s truth.
4. The Religious Education programme is an integral part of the curriculum. The principles, truths and ethics of that programme permeate whatever the school does. The focal point of the whole school is Christ. The pupils are taught that God is creator, that Jesus Christ is God-made-man, that their ultimate goal is heaven; that authority to teach and interpret God’s revelation was entrusted to the Church and is exercised by the Pope and Bishops. The school as a whole subscribes to the Apostles’ Creed which is the oldest of the formulas used by the Christians to express their faith. It accepts the two-fold commandment of Christ, love and God and neighbour and the other values expressed by Christ as norms of living.
5. No staff member will be required to act against their own conscience or personal philosophy of life. That would be unchristian and contrary to the aims of the school.

However, in accepting a position at a Catholic school it is assumed that the staff member realises that;

- a) Staff work as a team. Therefore all staff are expected to contribute, according to their individual strengths and within their personal convictions, to the total purpose of the school. No school can operate successfully if any staff member undermines the efforts of others.
- b) Staff members are role models. A school community rightly expects staff members to act so as to be appropriate models for its children. Conduct by a staff member which would give the school community grounds for thinking that the staff member's attitude is antagonistic to the special character of the school would not only be unprofessional, it could damage or even destroy that staff member's effectiveness.

6. New staff will find senior staff willing to assist them in gaining a fuller understanding of the school and its special character and in solving any difficulties that may arise in the course of their duties. In addition the following will be found helpful. Copies will be found in the staff room or school library:
